

An Historic Environment Network for Wales: next steps

One-day seminar at the Metropole Hotel, Llandrindod Wells

Thursday, 7 May 2009 10.30-4

Following the enthusiastic support for a Welsh heritage network demonstrated at last year's two Treftadaeth Conferences, this seminar has been organised to enable voluntary sector organisations to look closely at how one could take shape.

The principle of a network has won strong support from the Welsh Assembly Government's Historic Environment Group. Now, with Cadw's support, this event offers organisations and individuals across Wales an opportunity to contribute to its detailed design.

The seminar is free, and places are limited. Please book early to be assured of a place.
